GRADUATION CEREMONY

Congratulations to our 2023 Madison College graduates

Dear Graduates:

Take a moment. Now that you're here, set aside any stress or worries you had on the way here tonight. Regard your cap and gown and the fact you will soon be recognized for successful completion of your program of study. An important leg of your life's journey ends tonight, setting the stage for whatever you do next, as a graduate of Madison College.

It's an honor to share this time with you. Commencement represents new beginnings and a brighter future made possible by you. Your hard work and determination have paid off, along with the sacrifices—big and small—you've made along the way. I stand here with your families, friends, mentors and instructors tonight to congratulate and support you.

You started here with a vision for yourself, like every Madison College graduate since 1912. You accepted the challenge of a college education, understanding the benefits it will reap for you, your family, our workforce and our community.

Tonight, you join the proud ranks of Madison College alumni. I hope you will serve as a champion of the college, and a representative of the values for which we stand. May you take as much pride in us as we take in you. You are a part of our ongoing legacy.

Congratulations on your graduation. We sincerely wish you a happy and prosperous future.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

As we know it, academic life began first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, where the bachelor was the apprentice of the master, and the dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility.

Although the flowing gown was originally worn for protection against the cold of unheated buildings, it has now become a symbol of the democracy of scholarship, since it covers any dress of rank or social standing worn underneath. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves, the master's gown has oblong sleeves with an arc at the bottom, and the doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves. The bachelor's and master's gowns are untrimmed.

The doctor's gown is faced down the front with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves. The facing or bars may be black or another color pertaining to the discipline.

The hood gives color to the academic costume while its length indicates the wearer's academic degree. Hoods are made in a wide panel of black cloth matching the gown, and are lined with satin in the official academic colors of the institution where the degree was conferred.

The colors are used in the edging of hoods, and in some cases for the trim of the doctor's gowns associated with the discipline.

Special Service and Award Distinctions
