Teaching Excellence Awards Selection Criteria

1. The nominee demonstrates teaching experiences that have led to enhanced student learning.
   - Engages students and connects with them.
   - Shows respect for students and engages their creativity.
   - Engages in activities to continue to develop teaching skills.
   - Invites and accepts feedback to improve.
   - Tries new techniques to promote learning.

2. The nominee engages colleagues in the sharing of best practices in teaching and learning.
   - Demonstrates consistent leadership in faculty and/or staff development designed to enhance teaching and learning.
   - Serves as a positive role model to influence their career path.
   - Serves as a mentor to others.

3. The nominee demonstrates development of innovative approaches designed to support the learning of all students.
   - Keeps current in their field and makes learning relevant.
   - Makes use of current technology and tools and innovations and appropriate in their content area.

4. The nominee demonstrates service to the college that has advanced the Learning College principles.
   - Embraces, extols, and lives the mission of Madison College.
   - Demonstrates leadership through participation in college committees, task forces, associations, teams, etc.

5. The nominee demonstrates professional conduct.
   - Displays excellence, integrity, and respect when working with students, colleagues, and others in the college community.